ILLINOIS REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

EVERY COUNTY REPRESENTED.

Presidential and Gubernatorial Speculations.

EVERYBODY FOR LINCOLN.

(Special Dispatch to the Press and Tribune.)

DECATUR, May 8th, 1860.

The town is overflowing with delegates. The officials are receiving them very cordially. The Republican latch string is out. Ninety delegations have already arrived. It is believed that every county in the State will be represented.

Keith is here in strong force. The day has been spent in friendly consultations and comparing views as to candidates. Everything is working harmoniously, the best of feeling prevails in spite of the efforts of various individuals to sow discord among the the delegates in order to beat Judd. The Convention will be the largest and most enthusiastic ever held in Illinois. Delegates from all parts of the State, speak of going to the Republican cause. The Convention will be nearly unanimous for Lincoln for President, and the delegates to the Chicago Convention will probably be instructed for him. The central and southern counties are opposed to Seward and are divided between McLean and Bates for second choice. The northern counties generally favor Seward; but the Convention will not be formal second choice for President but leave that to the judgment of the delegates selected.

Gov. Koerner, Wm. B. Ogden, Judge Davis, and O. H. Browning are talked of as delegates at large to Chicago, also Thos. Marshall, Thos. J. Turner, and Judge Logan. The most careful estimates for Governor on first ballot are as follows: Judd, 210; Swett, 166; Yates, 154; Bushfil, 117; Judd's friends feel sanguine of his nomination; Swett's ditto; result very doubtful. Swett's friends may go to Yates and nominate on the 4th or 5th ballot. If Yates is dropped most of his friends will support Judd. The Convention will hardly adjourn before Thursday or Friday. Westworth made a speech last night attacking Judd and puffing Swett, calling him the Henry Clay of the West. He damaged the latter more than the former.

Inspection of Grain.

In the proceedings of the meeting of the Board of Trade, published in yesterday mornings paper, some typographical errors occurred in the resolution offered by J. C. Wright, Esq., and which was passed. We publish it this morning, corrected:

Resolved, That the Board of Directors be requested to enforce the resolutions of this Board, heretofore passed, in relation to the inspection of Canal grain, and also to adopt and carry out an arrangement with the Warehousemen of this city, which shall secure an inspection of all grain as it goes on board of vessels or canal boats, from their warehouses, by which they shall furnish to the Secretary of the Board a certificate of all the grain which goes on board vessels, or canal boats, with the grades, and furnish a like certificate to the shipper of such grain.

A Personal Matter—Horace Greeley and Wm. H. Seward.

[From the N. Y. Tribune, 7th.]

The Boston Courier apparently regarding the conduct of its own columns and the enlightenment of its own skeleton of a party as of no particular consequence, is hard at work in an attempt to dictate the nominations of the Republican party and the course of the Tribune. Agreeing heartily with every friend of the Republican party in the land that Gov. Seward and no one else shall be nominated for President at Chicago, it can imagine no other than a deceitful and sinister motive for the course of the Tribune from the line of policy thus chalked out for us by all our political adversaries. Here is an explanation of the matter.

Mr. Seward's views on the points of history, whereon I said to illustrate his record in the Senate of the United States, Mr. Greeley says, are those of a Whig, but would not be binding upon a majority composed of Democrats. Mr. Seward, he says, "was elected to the Senate as a Whig, and doubtless a majority of his constituents were Whigs; but he was a Senator of the whole State, and not of a party." Now I submit that Mr. Seward's record in the Senate was that of a Whig, and that his constituents, in re-electing him, did so in the belief that he would be nominated for President at Chicago, and would be supported by the Whig party. Mr. Greeley says that he could by the Tribune cannot have been forgotten by Mr. Seward, who has often been a guest at his table. Mr. Greeley is a Whig, and has been for a quarter of a century the leading Whig editor in the United States. He has been especially the Radicals, are greatly pleased at the course of Mr. Greeley and the Tribune in relation to Judge Douglas, and it is reported that the Republican organ in New York: Moneyed men offer to invest their capital in the enterprise, Mr. Greeley is kindly abandoned, and Mr. Greeley, a Whig of Whigs, is left to manage the business.

THE NATIONAL UNION CONVENTION.

There are many of the delegates to the Baltimore Union Convention in town. The leading names with them are Mr. Bell of Tennessee, and Houston of Texas. Messrs. Botts, Ruffin, Stanly, and Critenden will be there many warm supporters. Bell and Everett seem to be the favorite ticket; Houston and Crittenden next.

THE CHICAGO CONVENTION.

The Republican members of the House will, for the last week, remain away from Chicago during the Convention there.

There will probably be objection to Bill Kellogg, Representative from Oregon, on the ground that he does not represent the people of that State and supports the doctrine of equality of negroes. About a dozen members are here from Virginia to Chicago says he is satisfied that his delegation will go for Seward. What the other gentlemen from Virginia seem to have forgotten that a Convention is to be composed of delegates from every State in the Union, meets at Chicago to nominate for the Republicans. They are merely to act.

THE DEMOCRATIC FEUD.

The factions of the Democracy have given notice that they shall to-morrow open a guerilla fight with each other in both Houses of Congress. Douglas leads off in the Senate, and will open the battle. It is expected that Mr. Douglas will denounce the Administration, and will speak for three days. Anti Douglas men will follow in succession, and it is thought that the fight will last before June through the Administration.

Heal the Sick.—Diseases of the Stomach are always caused by large deposits of morbid matter, let by bad or impure blood in those important organs, and the poisonous material in this vitiated blood, being on the system, seeks to free itself from the body by the natural channels, or if any is carried off it is by vast portion. So arise diarrhœa and dysentery, fits, confusion, bad breath, indigestion, nausea, loss of appetite, belching of wind off the stomach, etc. To cure all these diseases, you must purify the blood, when perfectly pure and free from corrupt matter, you cannot be sick. A short use of JUDSON'S MOUNTAIN HERB PILLS will delight you. You will find with surprise their mighty power, and be willing to say with the rest thousands of the wise, truly they are the "mighty to save."

WHEAT—REVIEW—THE WEATHER AND THE CROPS.—During the past week the weather has been warm and dry, with but slight showers. This evening, however, a long-threatened thunder storm prevails, which cannot fail to benefit the crops. Spring wheat is reported as looking well, though the dry weather has retarded its growth somewhat. The farmers are busy planting corn, and an unusually large breadth will be cultivated.

The following tables show the movement of produce during the past week and since the 1st of January:

The corn market was tolerably active to-day and the market on Chicago was well sustained, notwithstanding the liberal receipts; inquiry and demand for milling and distillery rows from below, caused it to close weak. Wheat was also in good request, and the market was unusually steady—sales of No. 2 Spring being made at $1.10 in store—closing firm. Flour was inactive, though there was a fair inquiry. Buyers and sellers, however, were apart, and the sales were limited at $5@5 50 for medium to good spring extras. Oats quiet. Rye firm. Highwines quiet.

Pre ghts advanced 1c to day—three vessels having engaged at 5c for corn to Buffalo—rates closing firm.
